Meet Mrs. Wippich

My name is Jessica Wippich and this is my 7th year teaching 5th grade at Algonkian. We learn a lot of interesting things in fifth grade and I am really looking forward to working with your child.

A bit about my background: I grew up as an Air Force “military brat” and moved all over the United States. In fourth grade, I had the most wonderful teacher named Mrs. Smith. She actually managed to make learning FUN, giving us the opportunity to learn in a variety of ways, all the while maintaining order and a positive working environment. She motivated me to pursue this profession and I utilize a lot of the same strategies in my teaching. I hope my enthusiasm for learning will motivate your child to try his or her best.

When I finally settled in Virginia, I finished high school and then graduated from George Mason University in 2005 with a bachelor’s degree in English (concentration in cultural studies). After graduating, I worked for over six years at a software company in Tysons Corner. I had always wanted to be a teacher, though it wasn’t until 2009 that I decided I was ready to pursue my dream. In order to achieve my goal, I once again became a student at George Mason University, this time earning my Master of Elementary Education degree and Pre-K-6 teaching licensure.

When I’m not at school, I enjoy spending time with my wonderful husband, Jason, and our (energetic!) son, Nicholas, who is a new Bobcat this year. In my spare time, I enjoy spending time with my family, reading, writing, anything artsy or creative, and hanging out with friends.

I am really looking forward to the opportunity to get to know your child this year. I am sure we will have a lot of great experiences and opportunities to learn and grow together in the months ahead. If you have questions or concerns, please email me directly at jessica.wippich@lcps.org.
